Ancient Wisdom & Modern Science

An ayurvedic practitioner came upon a village in India where he noticed an unusually active older population grinding tamarind seeds to stretch out their flour.

Knowing traditional medicine uses tamarind to soothe and comfort, he realized this economic practice could be the key – and the basis for a revolutionary joint health supplement.

Enlisting premier botanical researchers, they created the ultimate food-based supplement – holistically supporting joint comfort and function while protecting and lubricating joints.
